Material Required- Clay (Mouldit)/Shipkar clay, Canvas, Fevibond, Oil, Colors (Acrylic)

Description- Clay has been used to make art, both functional and decorative, for centuries. Wet clay, plasticine clay and polymer clay are common media used by artists in different genres of art. Hobby Ideas Shilpkar has a self-hardening quality and is extremely durable. It requires no firing and its self-curing feature in a short span of time into a hard and durable state proves to be far more advanced than regular wet clay. Unlike regular clay, this is not affected by water and does not shrink in size. Additionally, these can be painted or varnished with all types of Fevicryl Hobby Ideas Acrylic colors and colors can be added to these compounds by mixing a few drops of color while kneading the dough. These are extremely safe and hassle-free to use. Hence, these can be used with bare hands and can be cleaned using soap and water. Shilpkar is purely used as a modeling compound by artists and it serves the same purpose as polymer clay, which is extensively used in making miniature models, sculpted dolls, figurines, theatre props and sets, costume pieces, jewelry, etc.
