

‘Anupama Pati’ conferred 29th MP Young Scientist Award

Ms Anupama Pati, PhD scholar (School of Energy and Environmental studies) at Devi Ahilya University, Indore participated in 29th MP Young Scientist Congress and presented her research work on “Chemo-enzymatic Method for Extraction and Reuse of Protein and Chromium from Chrome Tanned Leather Shavings” in the field of Environmental Science. Her research work was highly appreciated by eminent juries of Young Scientist Congress and conferred with “Young Scientist Award” for her outstanding research.

